REV. R. BRUCE DICKSON, M. A.
Vicar of Stewkeley

PREFACE.

How it came about that the oldest of the registers of St. Michael's church, Stewkeley, in the county of Buckinghamshire, have been reproduced and printed in America, may not be without interest to those into whose hands these pages fall.

In 1892, not long after my appointment to Stewkeley, Mr. Charles Putnam of Boston, America, and his sisters, called at the Vicarage, wishing to see the old parish registers.

They stated that the records in America bore witness that some of their ancestors had left Aston Abbots not later than 1640, and that the family had enjoyed property in Stewkeley as well as in that place, and that Nicholas, the father of the emigrant John Putnam, had lived some time in this parish.

Search of the registers revealed the baptisms of Richard Putnam in 1590, and of William Putnam in 1592. At the time of Mr. Charles Putnam's visit the Stewkeley registers from 1545 to 1653 were a mass of loose sheets, to some extent worm eaten and in parts hopelessly illegible from damp and decay.

They had, however, been carefully arranged in order, shortly before this, by one of my friends. Later on I received a request for a copy of this ancient register from Mr. Eben Putnam* of Salem, Mass., U. S. A., a well-known compiler of genealogical records.

* As the task of preservation of these interesting records in this form arose from the interest shown by this American family, representatives of a family once of importance and numbers in this portion of England, a few words may not be amiss regarding that family. The American family of this name is descended from William Puttenham of Puttenham in Heris, near Tring, and of Penn, Sherfield, Warbleton, etc., who lived in the latter part of the fourteenth century, and who was of a family seated there at a much earlier date, and connected with the Hampdens, Warbletons, Pigotts and other ancient Buckinghamshire families. From him descended Sir George Putnam, the grandfather of George Putnam or Puttenham, the author of the Arte of English Poesie, a well-known work. At the time of the migration of John Putnam of Aston Abbots, this, the eldest line of the family, had become extinct, leaving the representation of the family to the founder of the American line. From this John Putnam, who was a man of great worth, and whose landed possessions in Salem and vicinity were large, sprang the family which is today one of the most numerous and well-known American families. While the trans-Atlantic family has multiplied, and furnished renowned military leaders, clergymen, scientists, men of law and of books, the name, once so numerous in this part of Buckinghamshire, is now almost entirely unknown here. The history of this family is a striking illustration of the colonizing power of the English race.

With a view to meeting Mr. Putnam's wishes, I took the loose sheets to Her Majesty's Public Record Office, as no one who was not well accustomed to ancient manuscript could possibly copy them, and on the advice of one of the courteous officials, (Mr. R. A. Roberts), and with the approval of the church wardens, I had the loose sheets "repaired" and strongly bound in vellum by the binder employed at the office, and then had the entries, which were becoming fainter and fainter with age, carefully copied by an able expert, (Mr. A. F. Heintz, of 6 Clifford's Inn), who does much work at the record office. The heavy expense of repairing, binding and copying the registers is to be defrayed by the sale of the copies, which Mr. Eben Putnam has been so good as to print, free of charge, with this object.

In the following pages will be found several entries of interest. They prove that many of the families now living in Stewkeley had ancestors in the same parish some 300 or 400 years ago, at least. Than the Manor of Tittlecote was purchased in the reign of Queen Elizabeth by the ancestors of Sir Thomas Shephard, Bart., and through the marriage of his niece, Miss Hart, passed to Hon. Richard Cavendish of Thornton Hall, father of the present owner. As the ancestors of Sir Thomas were settled at Tittlecote in the reign of Henry VIII., there can be no doubt but that the Shephards mentioned in this old register are members of his family; we find, for example, the baptism of William Shephard and Thomas Shephard in 1546, the burial in 1615 of Alce Shepherd, daughter of Thomas Sheppard, and the baptism in 1625 of Thomas Shepperd, sonne of Thomas Sheppard and Alice, his wyfe. From these instances, it will be observed that very little regard was paid to correct spelling, so that many names will be found, even on the same page, spelt in several different ways. I may observe that the contraction on page 52 stands for North Marston and not for Missenden.

From this register we learn that William Prestwoode, Vicar of Stewkeley, was buried on the 15th day of March, 1598, [or perhaps 1599], and that on the 13th of April, 1599, Nicholas Wilder, Master of Arts and lycensed preacher, was inducted into the vicarage of Stewkeley. Lastly, there is a note, not in the body of the register, written in a very bad hand, apparently about 1633, referring, it may be, to two vicars, the one being removed possibly in the troublous times to make room for other. We read—"Memorandum that John Simsone, Master of Arts, came to Stucly in the year 1629. O, mine enemy, hast thou found me, and he said, I have found thee because thou hast sold thyself to work wickedness in the sight of the Lord. Heaven and earth shall pass a [waie but my] word shall not pass awaie. Francis Fockett is my name, and with my pen to the same, and if my pen * * * * better it would have * * * better." Part is quite illegible.

R. BRUCE DICKSON, M. A.,
Vicar of Stewkeley.

November 4th, 1897.

THE PARISH REGISTER OF STEWKLEY, CO. BUCKS, ENGLAND.

CONTRIBUTED BY REV. R. BRUCE DICKSON, M.A.,
VICAR OF STEWKLEY.

Copied from the original by Mr. A. F. Heintz, under the direction and at the cost of Mr. Dickson.

---

THE Stewkley Register (which is here printed) covers the following period :

Baptisms, 1545-1653.

Burials, 1599-1653.

Marriages, 1599-1646.

---

[Stewkley is about four miles west of Leighton Buzzard in Bedfordshire. At the time of the Doomesday survey there were three manors there. In the sixteenth century the most opulent family in that immediate vicinity were the Duncombes, who perhaps came into possession of Stewkley as early as, if not earlier than, 1545.

Thomas Duncombe was of Wingrave and may be he who died 3 Sept., 1548.

He left sons Thomas of Whitechurch ; Richard of Aylesbury, who had Stewkley ; Henry and Bennett. Richard Duncombe, son of Thomas, left an heir John, who held Stewkley in 1558. Soon after it passed from this family.

John Fox, who was appointed vicar at Stewkley in 1545, has been identified by some historians as John Fox the martyrologist, said to have been born in 1517.

The Church is of the eleventh century and was once occupied by Cromwell's troopers during the civil war. No memorials prior to 1660 remain in the church. Many names common to New England occur on this register. It may be remarked that Nicholas Putnam, formerly of Wingrave, and father of John Putnam of Salem, Mass., was, at the time of his death, a resident of this parish.—EDITOR.]
